The first edition of the Trevett Family of Dorset was launched in March 2004 through the Trivet Family web site, hosted by MyFamily.com. To make it more accessible the document was also placed later on the general Net. The purpose of the document was to share the results of my Trevett family research with others and with that to hopefully glean further family information.

I am encouraged to say that there has been much interest in Trevett family history research over the past two years to the extent that there has been a significant increase in the amount of data that I now hold. This new expanded edition of the Trevett Family of Dorset seeks to incorporate all this new information that has been gathered over the past two years.

This edition retains the same format, with each report offering a combination of an Outline and a full Descendants Tree. Having said that I have taken this opportunity of including more detail where this is available. Identified errors within the original have also been amended.

Although there is one new report i.e. that of Thomas Trevett (b 1750) the majority of the new information links in with the families contained within the first edition. I must say that much of this material has been generated through my Genes Reunited contacts. As a family research tool it has been invaluable and there has been a noticeable increase in interest in the Trevett family over the past 12 months through this site. This, no doubt, will result in the need to consider the release of a third edition during the next year or two.

Also within the past two years I received family research material from the Dorset Records Office that has taken my own family tree (report 5) back to the 15th century. The material was prepared in 1924 by the Dorset historian the Rev. Grosvenor Bartelot on behalf of a John Burt Trevett from Australia. The aim of the research appears to have been to establish a link with Sir John Trevett, the Lord of Fordington Manor to 1396 (Rev Bartelot was the vicar of Fordington Parish Church). I would be most keen to learn from any living descendants of John Burt Trevett as to whether there is any other research material that was provided to the family by the Rev. Bartelot

The Trevitt family also caught the imagination of a university student who chose for her thesis the career of Sir Thomas Trivett (1330-1388). You can find the results of her detailed research on the Trivett Family web site.

Although this report contains a wealth of information about the Trevett family there is still much more that is accessible to you. In some instances I have research notes that provide an insight into the history of the family, and also the Trivett Family web site provides a wide range of information together with the opportunity of communicating with others who are researching the Trevett family. Access to the web site is by invitation. If any of these options are of interest contact me on brian_trevette@lineone.net.

Good luck with your research

Introduction to the 1st Edition

This 'book' provides a vehicle for me to gather together the records that have been accumulating over the past 15 years or so of those Trevett families that owe their early origins to villages of picturesque Dorset, England. In addition it also provides a means of sharing with others the genealogical details that could prove to be of help to them in their family history research.

In part the idea of pulling together such a mass of data was encouraged by John E Trivett (the creator of the Trivett Family Website) who last year was promoting the idea of a 'Trevett' database. It was seen as a means of collecting and managing the wealth of researched Trevett family information that is out there, some of which is known to us through material lodged on John's site plus plenty more that we don't know about that you may have stored away. So this 'book' could form the foundation of the Trevett Family Database; having said that I'm unsure as to whether the Family Tree Maker programme is necessarily the right one. Perhaps others would wish to offer an opinion on this point.

Since 1988 I have had contact with a wide range of other researchers of the Trevett family, many of whom have provided invaluable information either in the guise of their family trees or details from various documents e.g. parish registers, annual census, probate records. Although only a small proportion of the information proved to relate to my 'tree' I have since used the information to produce other Trevett family histories. Many of these have been put to good use through my being able to respond to research enquiries, and over time I have, in many cases, been able to connect what were previously individual trees.

This 'book' therefore represents the results of an accumulation of information collected over the past 15 or years. It is divided into 10 Reports, each accommodating both an Outline Descendant Tree and a full Descendant Tree. Although navigation is aided, in part, by the index I acknowledge that finding your way around such a mass of data can be frustrating, but patience may bear fruit in aiding your family research; this is another point i.e. navigation, that is worth bearing in mind when forming your opinion on the question of an appropriate database for the Trevett Family Tree.

Many of the trees are linked through inter-marriage within the wider Trevett family. The table (see Annex 1) provides the connecting details. The reports also include a few trees that are not yet connected to the 'main' family. It is hoped that these may be 'linked in' once more information becomes available. Perhaps you currently have the much sought after connecting information in your records. I have also included a written report in relation to Isaac Trevet. Isaac is the one known example within my records of the Trevett family's emigration to the States and therefore potentially of particular interest to our American cousins.

My own tree is the one detailed at Report 2 and headed by Robert Trivet of Long Bredy. A few years ago I prepared a rather lengthy report containing a number of family histories, all of which were encouraged by material received from Margaret Caen (nee Trevett). The report includes 19th century memoirs prepared by a father and his son, Margaret's direct ancestors. In addition to a valuable Trevett family history they provide us with a vivid insight into Dorset village life. The information contained within these memoirs also released me from a 5 year block in my family research that had me struggling to escape from London of the 1800s. The information provided by Margaret also included the foundation of the family tradition that we were from Huguenot stock having descended from a family that had arrived from France in 1711. This led to my research of the Freeman family and my quest to find the Trevett family chest that arrived with 'my French ancestors'. This report is saved as a separate file and can also be accessed through my 'filing cabinet' on John's site.

I do appreciate that the 'Trevett Family of Dorset' is not going to immediately attract the attention of many of visitor's to the Trivett Family site. Reading the range of messages logged onto the site it is evident that a significant majority of you appear to descend from the 'Devon' arm of the family i.e. from the Sidmouth area. There are also those of you with your 17/18th century roots in Sussex or the Midlands. However, I support John E Trivett's view that we are, in the main, descended from the Trivett families that fought with William at Hastings in 1066.

Research of our core medieval ancestors reveals that they were, in the main, of 'gentry' stock (plus one peer) with their main holdings in Somerset. Evidence would also suggest that as we move into the 15/16th centuries there was an accelerated move out of Somerset and into the surrounding counties, primarily into Dorset and Devon and from there to other parts of England and Wales. By the time of the 1881 census more than 50% of the Trevett family members lived in Dorset with very few remaining in Somerset. So for many of you Dorset may prove the birthplace of your early ancestors, with the villages around the Bride Valley being their likely location.

I will conclude this somewhat lengthy Introduction with a heart-felt acknowledgement of the wealth of support and information generated by a group of fellow researchers over the past 15 years. These include from those early days Jack Barnes, who provided so much information from the Dorset parish records, Phil Trevett and Sue Griffiths, and more recently John Trevett, Jack Trevett, Sarah West, Tony Fox, Benjamin Beck and Margaret Caen. Last, but not least, is John E Trivett who has provided such an inspiration to us all through his website.

Enjoy

The following is a copy of an article held at the Cerro Gorro County Library, America.

FRANK CHARLES TREVETT TAKEN FROM THE CERRO GORRO COUNTY LIBRARY

Frank C Trevett, a retired land owner, former railroad grading contractor, travelling salesman and former mayor of Nora Springs, and who may now be regarded as one of the pioneers of Floyd County, was born near Dorchester, England, October 19, 1835.

Frank is the son of Isaac and Eliza (Charles) Trevett, both of whom were also born in the same part of England. Isaac born April 10 1805, died April 23 1893; Eliza Trevett born June 19 1806, died October 18 1876. They left England in 1852 and came to the US. Following their arrival in this country they proceeded out to Wisconsin and located at Kenosha, in that State.

Isaac Trevett, who had been a public road grading contractor in England, followed the same occupation on coming to Wisconsin. In 1858 he and his wife and family came to Floyd County and settled in Nora Springs. On taking up his residence in this County, Mr Trevett started as a farmer in Cerro Gordo County and continued thus engaged for close on 40 years. He and his wife died in the town of Nora Springs, he being over 80 years of age and his wife attaining the fine old age of 90 years (?). While living in England Mr and Mrs Trevett were followers of a new sect which had succeeded from the Episcopal Church. They were the parents of the following children: George, who married a Miss Whiteing, Charles, Mrs Georgina Clark, Frank C, the subject of this sketch, Mrs Charlotte Marsh and Emanuel C.

Frank C Trevett was educated in the school of his native town in England, but discontinued attending after he had reached the age of 12 years of age. In company with his parents he came to Nora Springs Floyd County in May 1858. Shortly after settling in that town he traded for a large tract of land and for ten years farmed on it; the venture proving very successful.

At that time Floyd County was being slowly settled and Mr Trevett was among the early pioneers to locate at Nora Springs and Manson City. He built the first house on the prairie between Nora Springs and Mason City. In the year of 1875 he built a substantial brick building, not equalled in quality within a radius of 150 miles, known as the Opera House block.

For a period extending 30 years Mr Trevett was on the road travelling as a salesman, handling various lines of merchandise. He retired from this branch of activity in 1902. He named Portland Town in Cerro Gordo County, this State, after a well known place in England. Whilst living in Wis. Mr Trevett, in conjunction with his father, contracted to provide 30 miles of railroad grading for the Kenosha & Rockford Railroad Co., and in this enterprise, as in all other undertakings, he was successful.

Mr Trevett may be said to have grown up with Floyd County. He came here in the early pioneer days and throughout the long period of his residence he was said to have been witness to, and participate in, the wonderful development of more than half of the County.

Frank C Trevett married on Nov. 11 1875, at Racine. Wis. to Elizabeth Blackwell, a native of London, England, who came to America with her parents in 1852 and settled in Racine. She was the daughter of Joseph and Sarah (Thorpe) Blackwell, natives of England, who later went to Montana and died in that State.

To Mr and Mrs Trevett the following children have been born, namely: Walter, Ada, Fred, Lizze, Emanuel, and Ralph Blackwell Trevett. Between the years 1870 and 1875 Mr Trevett was engaged in buying wheat and for some years was in the farm implements business. He served the public in many capacities and filled several township offices. He was mayor of Nora Springs in the early seventies and during his term of office much civic progress was made and his public service was widely appreciated. For many years he was a member of the Iowa Travellers Association and of the Modern Woodman of America. Mr Trevett was living in this vicinity between Nora Springs and Mason City at the time of the Spirit Lake Massacre. He is now in comfortable retirement, after a life of strenuous activity, having passed the allotted span of four score years, being now in his eighty second year.

[NB: I Presume that the above was prepared in 1917 with the remainder put together post 1981. The following individuals I have taken to be the descendants of Isaac and Elizabeth Trevett]

Anna Trevett was born in Kenosha Wis. In 1877 she was united in marriage to I K Gilchrist of Sheffield, where she lived the rest of her life on a farm. In 1920 Mr Gilchrist passed away leaving Anna and their four sons to survive.

George Trevett Sr. passed away in 1920 at the home of his daughter Mrs J R Wood in Mason City after an illness of about 10 weeks.

Elmia (Mrs R J Wood) died at the home of her daughter, Mrs Clarence A Knutson in 1931. She suffered a stroke, which encumbered her walking in her later years. She spent the last years with her daughter in Clear Lake. During this time she had accompanied Mrs Knutson to national conferences of the League of Women Voters and Women Federated Clubs. At one time in Wash. she was present in the Senate Gallery when the Bryan Kellogg Peace Pact was ratified. She was also introduced to ex President Calvin Coolidge and was in a group picture with this national leader.

Mr Wood died in July 1981. It is thought that death was due to heart disease or stroke. His body was found by a neighbour who visited the farm when they thought something was wrong. The body was found lying face down in oats bin in a big corn crib. The farm had no tenant and the nearest neighbour lived several rods away.

George C Trevett was born in Keosha Wis. In 1854. At 5 years he moved with his parent to a farm in Portland Township in Cerro Gordo County, where he resided until 1881. He was married to Jennie Latham. Five children were born to them: Minnie, Lee, Benjamin, Irl and Arthur. George was a pure bred livestock breeder George C Trevett died in Dec 1934 at home near Rockford. Mrs Trevett preceded him in death in 1910. One son Arthur also preceded him in death in August 1933.

TREVETT FAMILY OF DORSET

Arthur Trevett was born in 1895 and lived in the vicinity of Rockford until about 6 years before his death when he moved to Chicago. About two weeks before he died he returned home following a tour of the harvest fields in Kansas. He failed to rally his strength and gradually grew weaker until his death in 1933. He was laid to rest at Rockford Cemetery beside his mother.

The following is an extract from an article that appeared in the February 1998 edition of the Somerset and Dorset FHS magazine. The article entitled 'Whatever happened to Great Uncle Joseph' was written by Derek Woodland of Weymouth. Although the main focus of the piece is James Woodland, who emigrated to America, there is mention of members of the Trevett family i.e. Frank C, Chas, Isaac and Eliza; who had also emigrated to America (approx 1852). It is suggested that Joseph accompanied the Trevett family when they travelled to the States.

Whatever happened to Great Uncle Joseph?

..... Not only that but in the follow up letter she sent me copies of two affidavits, one sworn by Frank C Trevett and Chas Trevett, the other by Isaac and Eliza Trevett. It appears that Joseph Woodland fought in the American Civil War and as a result his health suffered. In order to claim his army pension the Trevetts gave evidence that prior to enlisting he had been in good health and was considered the best man physically in the neighbourhood. After the war he was broken down and could do but little work, having contracted a bad cough whilst in the army which reduced him in flesh and strength so much that he was unable to provide properly for his family. The affidavits also revealed that Joseph moved from Iowa to N Dakota in 1878.

The Trevett family appear in the 1851 census for Broadmayne, the family consisting of Isaac (45), Eliza (44), Charles (19), Frank (15), Georgehonour (12), Charlotte (8) and Emanuel (4). It would seem that perhaps the Trevett family emigrated and took Joseph with them?
